Grow + Serve in Christ

One Month In – Big Changes Ahead!

It's hard to believe it's been one full month since Droste Construction broke ground on our campus—and school was still in session when they began! Since then, every corner of Lutheran High School has seen transformation. From the kitchen walls rising to the classroom demolition dust settling, the pace has been steady—and exciting.

While there is still much to be done, we are hopeful and prayerful that our classrooms will be ready for the first day of school on Wednesday, August 13. We're confident the kitchen will be completed even sooner—thanks to the incredible momentum from the team at Droste Construction. Their progress has been remarkable, and we're grateful for the craftsmanship and care they bring each day.

We also extend our thanks to Mission Architects for their visionary designs and to CertaPro Painters, whose work has brightened our hallways, classrooms, and Commons, making the rest of the school shine even amidst the construction.

When you step back onto campus this fall, you may hardly recognize the place! These improvements represent more than walls and windows—they represent our commitment to building an environment where students thrive spiritually, academically, and relationally.

Stay tuned for more updates as we move closer to welcoming our students back into spaces designed to Grow and Serve in Christ!
